Claire and Leon meet Sherry's mother, Amanda, for the first time. She appears to be the same age as Sherry, 30. Amanda and Sherry seem to have a friendly friendship and have known each other for a long time. Amanda takes the four survivors for a tour of the house. After the tour, Amanda introduces them to her friends, Gabriel and Melissa, saying that they will be staying at the house for the night. Gabriel seems to be having a hard time with his mother's death. In an attempt to cheer him up, Sherry gives him her dog Joe. She tells him to take care of the dog for the night. That evening, Gabriel and Melissa throw a party for the four survivors. Amanda and her friends served alcoholic drinks to the survivors. During the party, Gabriel sees Claire and drags her to the backyard of the house. He takes her to a private room upstairs, and tells her to wait there. He returns to the party and asks Claire to go outside with him. After a brief conversation, Claire goes to the room and finds out that Gabriel's friends are also inside. She leaves the room, only to find both Nick and Ada quite similar in appearance. Nick and Ada seem to know each other, and they decide to take Claire and Leon outside to talk with the others. After talking briefly with the others, they introduce themselves. Nick is the son of Leon's friend and former partner Chris Redfield. Ada is also a partner of Chris and Leon's, who was nearly killed by the same hunters who took Leon's teammates away. They tell the four survivors that Leon and Chris were still out looking for them. In an attempt to help the survivors, the four new arrivals at the house plan to send someone to Raccoon City to look for them. Nick and Ada ask the four survivors to stay at the house as a precautionary measure. The four of them agree to do so.

After Desmond brought to them the antidote to the Uroboros virus, this time, the three heroes were ready to help Claire, Rani and Barry, as well as Natalia.
